Preface

This volume contains excerpts from the "Marysville Tribune", with some items from the 1895 issues of the "Union County Journal". Mostly, it cites obituaries, marriage announcements, and probate court notices from August 1890 through December 1903.

The work was compiled by Margaret Bouic to help genealogists find and identify their Union County ancestors. It was done in sections, over a number of years. Margaret Bouic has kindly and generously given permission to the Union County Chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society to combine and present her files in this format.

Margaret Bouic's Note:
"When I wanted to make notes on 1895 Tribunes, I found that date was not available in the Museum [of the Union County Historical Society] so I started using the 1895 Union County Journal which was in the Museum. Later the Genealogical Society was able to purchase microfilm copies of all Tribunes, so I have checked the 1895 copy with the Union County Journal. [For the year 1895], if I used notes from the Tribune, they are labeled mt. The Tribune was published one day earlier in the week than the Journal."

The following history of Aunt Kate Snodgrass was contributed by Mrs. Hiram Burnham. Grandfather King was killed in the Revolutionary War, grandmother was left with four sons and four daughters. One son "Balsar King was "bound out' and received six months schooling in German and the same in English.
Balsar King was married to Elizabeth Kriner and to them were born five children. The second daughter, Katharine (better known as Aunt Katy), was born in Stanton, Va. January 6, 1796. Her parents moved to Kentucky when she was four years old and lived there eight years. In 1807, they moved to Ohio, stopping in Green County. Mr. King bought a Revolutionary Soldier's land warrant in Union County, the land now known as the Uncle Ray Morse property. A log house was soon built and they moved in; later a larger log house was erected and during the War of 1812 nine families gathered there for protection from the Indians.

Mr. King and Mr. Andrew Gill were sent to Upper Sandusky as spies; they were surrounded by Indians; with horses and guns demanded. The men inquired about horse thieves. The Indians gave them supper and breakfast then sent them away.

Aunt Katy's educational privileges were very few; only three months school was held each winter. She learned to read in the Testamant and write. A Young man named Ralph A. Phelps who had been engaged in carrying the U.S. Mail from Worthington to Urbana was hired to teach their district school. Miss Katy became his bride September 5, 1818. To them were born four children, Elizabeth, Mary, William and Ralph. They moved north of Marysville and spent two years in the wilderness raising hogs to feed upon mast. Wolves howled about the house and fires were built to frighten them away. Herding being unprofitable, they returned to their own land. They raised flax and made all their clothing. She could weave five yards of linen in a day. February 26, 1831, Mr. Phelps died.

Katharine Phelps married for her second husband James Snodgrass March 12, 1835. Three children were born, the two daughters died in infancy. Their son married Sarah Shirk. Joseph & Sarah died within three days of each other leaving three childen. Mr. James Snodgrass died January 30, 1867, aged 72 years.

p6 The Rev. John Robinson and Some of his Descendants in Union County by H. Sabine. 1 1/2 columns.
Rev. John Robinson was born in 1575 in Nottinghamshire, England. He entered Cambridge College, England in 1592 and was elected fellow in 1597 and completed his studies in preparation of the ministry in the college. He was a man of great learning and was a distinguished controversalist. He entered upon his duties as a minister, but was suspended by his bishop on account of the Puritanic qualities of his teaching. he then joined the Independents or Dissenters from the Church of England and became the pastor of a church at Scrooley, Eng. This congregation was greatly persecuted by the priests and bishops of the Established church- was put under arrest for a month for having attempted to leave the country for the sake of religious liberty. In 1609, however, this congregation settled in Holland at Leyden. Many English Dissenters followed and soon this people became a great congregation. This movement of these Puritans from England to Holland was their first pilgrimage, and was the origin of the name Puritan. After a residence at Leyden for about ten years, Rev. John Robinson planned for his people a settlement in America, and in1620 the Mayflower landed a colony of 101 persons at Plyouth,Massachusetts, that had embarked under the direction of this leader. He intended to follow with the remainder of his congregation in a short time, but in 1625 he sickened and died. The pilgrims at Leyden pledged their beloved pastor that they would transport his family to the American colony. This promise they faithfully performed, and about 1629 or '30 the Robinson family was settled in the New World.

The descent from Rev. John Robinson (1) is traced as follows; One son Isaac (2) settled at Scituate near Plymouth where he was in active relations with the colony in 1633. In 1639 he removed to Barnstable a part of the peninsula south of Cape Cod Bay. From 1641 to 1655 he was assistant to the governor. He died in Barnstable in 1700 the age of 90. Peter Robinson,(3) a son of Isaac, was one of the original members of the Scotland Parish in the town of Wyndham Connecticut in 1735. His son Peter (4) was one of nine children and lived in Ryndham. Experience Robinson (5), son of last named Peter, was one of twelve children. Andrew Robinson (6) son of Experience, was one of six children. He lived at Tyndham and died there in 1849 at the age of 86. Lucy Robinson (7)and Dorcas Robinson (7) were daughters of Andrew. Lucy married Aaron Hill and was the mother of Waterman Hill (8) of Union County Ohio. of George Hill (8) of Colorado and of Augustus Hill (8) of Union County. Dorcas married Archibald Bates and was the mother of Andrew Robinson Bates (8), of Amelia Bates (8) and of Asa Bates all of Madison County, O. Mrs. Olive Spain (8), Miss Olive Newcomb of Union County O. was the daughter of the sister of Lucy and Dorcas.

July 18, 1900. Death Claims R. L. Partridge Succumbs to the shock of an accident on Tuesday afternoon. The accident to Reuben L. Partridge Tuesday afternoon in which he sustained a broken leg while helping to repair the Albaugh bridge, seven miles north of town, resulted in his death about 5:30 o'clock last evening. Is believed that the shock from his injury, together with heart trouble, with which he had long been afflicted, was responsible for his death.

When Dr. Mills was summoned Tuesday afternoon to reduce the fracture he at once realized Mr. Partridge was in a very weak condition. He administered nitroglycerine and other powerful restoratives, which did not seem to have the desired effect inasmuch as the patient complained of faintness. He was conscious until within fifteen minutes of his death.

The announcement of the end fell like a pall over the community. The deceased was so well and favorably known throughout Union County that his sudden taking off was a genuine shock to all. Mr. Partridge had been a resident of Marysville since 1836, coming from Worthington, Franklin County, to where his parents had moved from Wilmington, NY.

The deceased was 77 years of age. He was formerly a carpenter, but in 1866 he took up bridge building, and until iron bridges came into use he constructed nearly all the bridges of Union County, in which line he was a thorough master of his work and was eminently successful.

Mr. Partridge was a member of the first military organization in Union County, and during the Mexican and Civil wars he took an active part in raising men and money for the union cause. He was an accomplished drummer and until the last was in great demand when marshal music was needed. In this he was ever ready.

Mr. Partridge had served in the city council, was township clerk and trustee some years. He was always known as a progressive and public-spirited citizen, whose absence in future years will be keenly felt by all, and particularly by his friends to whom he was ever loyal and a friend indeed.

In 1846 he was married to Maria Wolford, who survives him and is the oldest native born citizen now residing in Marysville. Of their children the following are now living: Asenath Partridge, Mrs. H. C. Vosburg, Mrs. Francis L. Sager, Mrs. Waldo Guy, of Columbus, and Lillian Partridge.
